To Whom It May Concern,

As the coordinator of dog kennel operations for a no-kill animal shelter accepting only stray, abandoned or abused dogs, I have had the need to call upon "dog trainers" to assist in evaluating animals surrendered to our facility who particularly exhibit behaviors out of the normal range of typical dog behavior. Until one of our former clients referred Mr. Max McAllister to our facility, I was not successful in finding a suitable trainer.

Mr. Max McAllister of Alpha Dog Training, by far, has exceeded our expectations with respect to providing the needed assistance in evaluating dogs with temperament or behavioral issues, educating our staff on various training techniques to use with our canine residents and offering invaluable assistance and advice when determining the best possible placement for our dogs.

It has been my experience that Mr. McAllister's knowledge, dedication and training techniques will prepare any dog to successfully live out its life as a happy, healthy member of a family and community. Any trainer can teach a dog to sit, stay, come but it is a trainer of Mr. McAllister's caliber that can teach a dog to be so much more of a real companion.

On behalf of the staff of the Helen O. Krause Animal Foundation, Inc., I would, without hesitation, recommend Mr. Max McAllister to any group or individual seeking a "true" dog trainer.

Sincerely,
